Simon Furman has updated his blog with some new, interesting information.

This past Sunday, he wrote a little about the Sub-Con he attended in Dublin. During his panel at the convention, he says that he revealed that a certain Headmaster commander would make his way into the pages of an IDW spotlight. Fort Max won't be the main character, it'll just a supporting role for a yet unnamed character spotlight.

Today he shares a little information about the Titan UK astf Magazine #4 that is due out this week. This issue features free pin badges, a showdown between Prime and Megatron, and an appearance by Movie Devastator!
