Screenwriter Roberto Orci answers some more questions at the TFW boards, such as: while Peter Cullen's cameo is written into the script, it depends on whether Bay shoots it; clearing up on Scorponok's role in the first film; whether he and fellow writer Alex Kurtzman will be able to insert their commentary into the DVD/Blu-ray release of Revenge; regarding the Constructicon combiner Devastator; the possible return of a fan-favorite mech, and more. However, do be warned that some of his responses can be considered as spoilers.

Check out his responses here on those questions from earlier this week and onwards!
