Producer Lorenzo di Bonaventura was recently interviewed by IESB.net during the premiere of Steven Spielberg and Shia LaBeouf's Eagle Eye. Interviewer Robert Sanchez gets from the producer that there will be 3 times as many robots on both sides, although Lorenzo can't promise about Cybertron. Also mentioned is that fans should be able to see a lot of things that were desired but weren't possible in the first film. Lorenzo also mentions that Paramount is pushing for trailers to both Revenge and GI Joe to be released by the holidays, however that depends if the special effects for the trailers can be done in time.
