Official pictures of 100pc puzzles for Transformers Animated are up on the net, the puzzles being release via the Milton Bradley brand. There will be a group shot of all five Autobots, group shot of all five (or eight, if you count Blitzwing's personalities separate) Decepticons, one of Optimus, and one of Bumblebee. No word on the release date yet, but they are slated for the US, Latin America, and Canada.

And for those with an eagle eye and a keen memory, you might remember the Decepticon group shot as the image drawn by Transformers Lead Designer, Eric Seibenaler, for issue #17 of the Transformers Club Magazine!

Check them out here over at TFW.
