

Transformers Universe Special Edition?

Two interesting packaged figures have appeared in a post at ACToys.net. The figures are the Optimus Prime and Megatron from the Classics Ultimate Battle two-pack, but individually packaged in mostly mono-chromatic boxes under the name "Transformers Universe Special Edition" and repainted to better match their G1 counterparts. Perhaps more interesting than these two, however, are the cross sales for a Drag Strip repaint of Classics Mirage, and an Overkill repaint of Grimlock! So just what are these toys? And if the logos on the back lend credence to them being official product, then how and where will they be released? It looks like we'll just have to wait to find out!
