

Alternity Convoy's Automorph-esque Gimmicks

Contributed by NightViper
Monday, 22 September 2008

We've known that Alternity Convoy would feature a gimmick similar to the 2007 Movie toyline's Automorph gimmick. That is, when one part is moved during transformation, it automatically triggers another part of the transformation. Well now, thanks to Figure Oh! magazine we get our first look at this SyncroTech feature for the figure!

Click here to see a scan of the magazine's article at TFormers.