Screenwriter Roberto Orci has once again answered a slew of questions over at TFW's boards. Questions such as: Triple-changers aren't likely to appear in Revenge, but he did say that they figured "a triple changer is a good idea for part 3"; whether the Transformers theme song might show up; there will be some more emphasis on the Transformers in Revenge; some questions related to Soundwave, and plenty more! Keep in mind some of his reponses may be considered spoilerish, so read at your risk.

Start here to read his answers (starting from the last four posts) and then onwards to other qetions he answered (or teased)!
