A TF08.net member has gotten a hold of a Transformers Universe/25th Anniversary Cyclonus with Nightstick toy and shared a few images of it! It's unclear what stage of production this figure comes from, since it looks a little naked as far as paint ops go. Not to mention the paint ops that aren't quite the same shade as the plastic. Still, the images give us a great look at the mold as well as our first look at Nightstick's face!
