Yoshioka Hidetsugu is at it again with this 2 page manga that came in the first volume of Generations 2009, marking the start of pre-orders for the Electro Disruptor Ligier figure. The story seems to take place in the Henkei universe, but the surprise and unfamiliarity shown by Ironhide and Ligier suggest that nobody knows about Starscream's ghost. Well, Starscream is alive and well in Henkei, so is the ghost a traveller from another time and place, like with his appearance in Beast Wars? Yoshioka's manner of depicting the ghost is pretty groovy, with the colored line art in front of a black miasma.

The story is planned to continue in the second and third volumes of Generations 2009, where we will find out the identity of the third exclusive figure. What's your prediction?
