Amidst the onslaught of astf interviews, Kevin Lukis of Unicron.com was "interviewed" alongside Mark Ryan over a quick history of Transformers and Ryan's work on both Transformers and Revenge on Minneapolis/St. Paul AM 1130 KFAN. Like the first film, Ryan was present on the sets most of the time to help with the actors during scenes with the Autobots, and how he changed voices when it came to voicing Jetfire in Revenge. Kevin talks a bit of the history of Transformers, explaining about how the original Megatron is an interesting case when it comes to sellers legally speaking.

Listen to it at YouTube, or KFAN's podcast archive on the June 28 section. Drop your thoughts off at his thread!
