Rarely has the divide between the critic and the common man been so wide. While critics have been absolutely savaging Michael 'So Frikken Awesome' Bay's astf, it seems the general audience was undeterred. In fact, a new article by the LA Times reveals that exit polling indicates that 90% of those polled thought the film was as good or better than the first! 67% even rated the film as 'Excellent' - more even then Paramounts Star Trek! Awesome? Michael Bay Awesome! Read the full article over at the LA Times!
