Michael 'That Was a Hundred Times Cooler Than Armageddon' Bay knows this: Real Military look better on screen than actors. So, while filming astf, he was sure to feature some of the US's best! The Airmen of the Atlas Air Force Base in Oklahoma were in several scenes, including those featuring the C17's - the Cargo Jet that the toy Stratosphere was based on! Read the full story of their involvement, and how they affected the film, at the US Air Force Website!
