Million Hero Publishing, the publishers of the Transformers Generation 2009 books, updated their website today with new images of the upcoming G1 Skids and Screech figures. These figures borrow color schemes from astf Skids & Mudflap. Of note is these figures will indeed come with the mini-scooters originally packed with the Diaclone version of the Honda City figure (pre-Transformers Skids) and e-Hobby Crosscut. One last final bit, is Screech now features a gray head rather than the rust color previously seen due to the mold break down for the figure, and both feature gray legs instead of the previously seen black.
