Japanese toy magazines over the last month or so have featured a silhouette of EZ Collection (Legends) Rampage - many speculated this was an indicator of the release of the Red version of the character. The Yellow Rampage was released with the other 6 EZ Collection Devastator components earlier this year. Now we have a report from Figure King magazine that the Red version will be a Toys 'R Us free gift when you spend over 3,000 Yen at one of their stores. The campaign runs on November 21st.
