Dan Khanna added a full turn around of the original design for the head of the upcoming Transformers Collectors' Club Exclusive Punch/Counterpunch figure. This image shows the way the head was originally intended, giving each figure their own separate antennae! The final version of Punch has his own antennae removed, and uses the opposite side of Counterpunch's antennae instead.

**UPDATE** The original version has since been removed and updated with the one originally shown on the Transformers Collectors' Club site.
